CHILDREN 1st - Children 1st provides families with a single point of entry into a wide range of public health and community programs. The focus is on children age birth to five because the earliest years in life are critical to a child's development. Early nurturing, good health, and stimulating experiences yield dramatic, positive influences on how a child develops and functions throughout life. Children 1st provides family support and addresses conditions in a child's environment that may negatively impact that child's overall well being. Children 1st operates within every county in Georgia.
